2022 SEASON KICKS OFF IN ATLANTA

The 2022 Georgia-Oregon matchup will mark the Bulldogs' fourth scheduled appearance in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game. Georgia previously fell 35-21 to Boise State in 2011 and defeated North Carolina 33-24 in the 2016 contest during Kirby Smart's debut as head coach.

The Bulldogs were supposed to face Virginia to open the 2020 season in Atlanta. However, the COVID-19 pandemic forced the cancellation of that contest. Oregon will be making its first-ever appearance in the Chick-fil-A Kickoff Game, and the Ducks will be the second Pac-12 team to play in the game.

The matchup with the Ducks marks the first of four non-conference games in 2022. Georgia plays host to Samford for its home opener on Sept. 10. The Bulldogs will be matched up against Kent State two weeks later. Georgia completes its regular season versus the Yellow Jackets in Sanford Stadium on Nov. 26. The Bulldogs' first SEC contest will be at South Carolina on Sept. 17. The first league opponent coming to Athens will be Auburn on Oct. 8.

2016 CHICK-FIL-A KICKOFF CLASSIC FLASHBACK:

Nick Chubb made a triumphant return to help lead the 18th-ranked Georgia Bulldogs to a 33-24 victory over No. 22 North Carolina.

The junior tailback's 55-yard touchdown run capped an electric, come-from-behind win over the Tar Heels. Chubb's final touchdown dash, his 32nd and last carry of the game, left him at 222 yards, a CFA Kickoff Classic record and the third 200-yard effort of his career. It was a tremendous performance by the Cedartown, Ga., native following a severe knee injury in a game at Tennessee a year earlier.

"It felt great to finally have a chance to come out here and play as a team," Chubb said after the game. "For me, coming back out here for the first time felt amazing. I just took my mind off everything else and just played for my boys, the guys I've been with for the past couple of years. I felt good throughout the game. I had no idea where I was at any point in the game, as far as carries of yards. None of that matters to me. If the team calls on me, I know all of them are behind me."

The win opened the Kirby Smart era of Georgia football victoriously and in record-setting style. It marked Georgia's first season-opening win in school history over a nationally ranked team away from Athens.

"Our goal tonight was two-fold," Smart said after the game. "We wanted to help our players understand how to play Georgia football. What that is and to get them to give the effort to play with the competitiveness and toughness that we want. That was it. It wasn't about the scoreboard. It was just about doing that. I felt like if they did just that, then I'd be comfortable with how they played.

Junior Nick Chubb set a Chick-fil-A Kickoff game record with 222 yards on 32 carries with two touchdowns. It was his third career game of more than 200 yards.

"They were resilient, they hard adversity and they kept fighting. There were a lot of doubters when the ball got kicked off and run back to start the second half. A lot of 'here we go's.' But not one kid on that sideline doubted it."

After trailing for much of the second half, the Bulldogs drove 71 yards for the go-ahead score midway through the final quarter. The key play in the drive came when freshman Jacob Eason completed a 51-yard pass to Isaiah McKenzie to the UNC 16. Georgia had to settle for a field goal as William Ham put Georgia back in front at 26-24 on a 29-yard field goal with 5:27 left.

Trailing 14-10 at halftime, North Carolina appeared to seize momentum on the second half kickoff. T.J. Logan scampered 95 yards for a touchdown. The Tar Heels increased the margin to 24-14 on a 21-yard Logan touchdown run with 6:34 left in the third quarter.

Georgia answered with a 75-yard scoring drive that included four successful third-down conversions. Later in the second half, Georgia's, Roquan Smith tackled Elijah Hood in the end zone for a safety that narrowed the margin to 24-23.

Chubb's second touchdown of the day provided the final margin.

RULE CHANGES FOR THE 2022 SEASON

Here is a review of the key rule changes that will take effect this fall courtesy of the National Football Foundation (NFF) & College Hall of Fame.

Since 2011, the NFF has partnered with the College Football Officiating (CFO), led by Steve Shaw and chaired by Mid-American Conference Commissioner Jon Steinbrecher, to help generate awareness for the rule changes in college football. The CFO functions as the national professional organization for all football officials who work games at the collegiate level, and the organization has held its annual winter meeting of conference coordinators for football officials at the NFF headquarters in Irving, Texas for ninth time this past January.

Shaw, who became the CFO National Coordinator of Football Officials in March 2020, previously served the Southeastern Conference and Sun Belt Conference as coordinator of officials. He also serves as the Secretary-Rules Editor of the NCAA Football Rules Committee, a position critical to the development of competition rules and policies. Shaw excelled as a head referee for 15 years in the SEC, earning 14 postseason assignments, including two national championship games. He has been a leader in revamping the sport's officiating mechanics and advancing the use of technology to assist officials.

"The mission of the Rules Committee is to develop and evaluate rules changes that will enhance the sport, protect the image of the game, and enhance the student athlete's health and safety," said Shaw. "Player safety has been the highest priority of the committee for many years now resulting in significant changes that have improved the game in terms of mitigating injuries. Specifically, the new Blocking Below the Waist rule, and the other modifications to the rules for 2022 will be a benefit for the student-athletes, the fans, and the game."

The NCAA Playing Rules Oversight Panel approved the following football measures during their April meeting, and all these rule changes will take effect in the 2022 season.

TARGETING CARRYOVER APPEAL PROCESS

In games that have instant replay, when a targeting foul occurs in the second half, the carryover penalty (of sitting out the first half of that player's next game) will be eligible for further appeal. The process will begin with a conference submitting a request to the NCAA national coordinator of officials, who would review video of the play. If it is obvious that a player was incorrectly penalized for targeting, the call would be overturned, and the player would be cleared to play in the first half of the next game.

DECEPTIVE INJURY TIMEOUT INVESTIGATION PROCESS

To address teams that are awarded an injury timeout through deceptive actions, panel members approved a reporting and investigation process. Schools and conferences will be able to report questionable scenarios to the national coordinator of officials, who will review and provide feedback to the conference for further action. Any penalties levied would be up to the conference office or school involved.

The NCAA Football Rules Committee considered several in-game options to address this, including altering the injury timeout rule to remove the injured student-athlete for more than one play. Currently, an injured player is required to sit out one play. This concept was debated at length, but the committee was concerned with the additional issues that could be created and did not want to encourage players to continue to participate when injured.

Committee members discussed how the pace of play appears to be contributing to this concern. "We considered all options to address this issue, including allowing both teams an opportunity to substitute after a first down," said David Shaw, chair of the Football Rules Committee and coach at Stanford. "This is another step to consider in the future."

BLOCKING BELOW THE WAIST

The panel approved a proposal to improve safety and simplify the rules governing blocking below the waist. The proposal will allow blocking below the waist only by linemen and stationary backs inside the tackle box. Outside the tackle box on scrimmage plays, blocking below the waist will be prohibited. Analysis of available NCAA injury surveillance data indicates a decreasing knee injury trend that coincides with recent rules changes in this area.

OTHER RULE CHANGES • If a ball carrier simulates a feet-first slide, officials will declare the runner down at that spot.

- Defensive holding will remain a 10-yard penalty but will always carry an automatic first down.

- The replay official will address any clock adjustment and status only when a ruling is overturned with less than two minutes in the 2nd or 4th quarter.

- Illegal Touching by an originally ineligible player is penalized five yards from the previous spot and now includes loss of down.
